

Introducing Nathan Tasker

His songs draw emotion, and crowds

Nathan Tasker may be Australian Christian music's best-kept secret.

The 29-year old singer-songwriter has been quietly performing throughout Australia, the US and the UK for more than a decade.

He has recorded seven albums, sold more than 17 000 units, and performed to around half a million people at more than 1200 concerts with little media attention.

But that's about to change.

His latest album, tentatively titled A Look Inside is scheduled for release late 2003.

Mixed by Ben Wisch (Marc Cohn, Bebo Norman, Caedmon's Call) and mastered by Ken Love (Cindy Morgan, 4Him, Delirious?, dc Talk, Rebecca St James), A Look Inside combines polished pop melodies with engaging lyrics.

Your Love Changes Me is the entry point to the album.

"I am always humbled and thankful by the fact that God's love for me is not based upon my performance, but on the death of His own perfect Son," says Tasker. "This is love indeed!" he remarks.

Waiting explores questions about the pain and suffering in our world and how this causes many people to ask 'where is God?'.

"I often find myself asking this exact question," Nathan says, "but I do so with the reality that He has not been silent, and that Jesus has endured pain and suffering so that my waiting might not be in vain," he says.

Another powerful song, Narrow, was written about a friend who used to come along to Nathan's Bible study.

"His boss put a lot of pressure on him to stay back at work and to reach for a promotion," says Nathan. This promotion became more important to him than Bible study, and the church as well, until it became more important to him than Christ. The song is a reminder to me to seek the narrow way, no matter the cost," he says.

Nathan Tasker plans to launch A Look Inside with a series of concerts in metropolitan and regional areas, as well as provide radio stations and syndicated programs with radio singles, interview opportunities, plus customised IDs.

With his ability to engage his listeners emotionally and spiritually, Nathan Tasker is poised to make a big impact in Christian music.

For further information contact, Wes Jay, Woodlands Media 03 9812 6220.

Discography

A Look Inside (working title) (2003)

Come see the morning (2002)

Acoustic Hope (2000)

Come Follow Him (1998)

Romantic Jester (1996)

Life... This side of Heaven (1996)

On That Day (1995)